

You can FIGHT THE BITE and help your students WIN $1,000

- ▶ Grand prize winners receive $1,000.
- ▶ The 5th and 6th grade winners in each state will receive $50.
- ▶ Co-sponsored by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the DEET Education Program, the contest is open to all 5th and 6th grade students in the U.S.
- ▶ See the 2010 winning posters at www.fightthebitecontest.org. Info about the 2011 contest will be posted at this website. Posters must be postmarked by April 18, 2011.
- ▶ Past judges have included officials from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the National Association of County and City Health Officials (NACCHO), the National Association of School Nurses (NASN), the National Public Health Information Coalition (NPHIC), and the American Mosquito Control Association (AMCA).

Adam Carr, 11, of Tampa, (far right) sixth-grade Grand Prize winner, with (L to R) Susan Little, CSPA, executive director of the DEET Education Program; Janet McAllister, CDC, president of the American Mosquito Control Association; Emily Zielinski-Gutierrez, CDC; and Dr. Lyle Petersen, director, CDC Division of Vector-borne Diseases.

The CA Department of Human Health Services held an event for fifth-grade national winner, Devayani Varma (right), and its two state winners, Arnon Erba (left) and Hannah Berenjfoorosh (center) and their families.

For more information visit www.fightthebitecontest.org, or call 800-789-3300, or email alison@kroegerpr.com.